Dear Mr. Acker,

The full Altgens picture is available from the ~~EXHIB~~ Wide World Picture subsidiary of the Associated Press, 50 Rockefeller Center, New York. The Zapruder film is owned by LIFE. I doubt they will sell it. Those frames that have been released may be available from the Archives which, by prearrangement, will also show the slides. Your researchers card is all you need for this. Make the arrangements with Mr. Marion Johnson, 963-4092, but remember, he is busy. I suggest you try and be there for another occasion on which he will show the pictures.

Your card entitles you to access to everything anyone else has access to, anything not still classified. With it you can get copies of the cropped pictures by identifying them by their exhibit numbers. They are $1.50 per 8x10 print.

I am a writer, a former investigator, intelligence and political analyst, and am not, although some years ago I was a poultry farmer. Remember, Jefferson and Washington were among our farmers. These same people do not refer to Eisenhower as a bull merchant or to Romney as a mechanic, do they? They are lickspittles. It is an unintended compliment that they can say no worse. It does not trouble me.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
